

Full speed behind the scenes.

A lot happens at ScandFibre, we work with systematic improvements throughout the business with the aim of streamlining our work, improving the quality of our services to you as customer.

In this newsletter we will tell you short about SFLmobile and our new functions.

New Function: My Wagons Release 2019-02-01

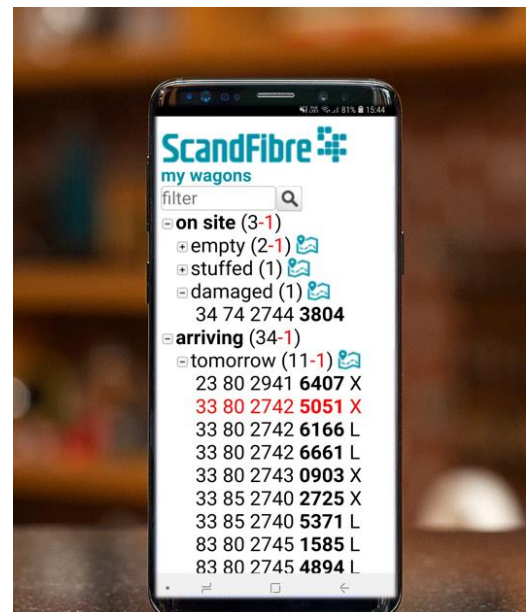

For some while, we have had some customers who have had this function as a test/beta-version, where we have received input and improve the quality as best as we can. We think it is time to publish this function for all our customers.

What does this mean for me as a SFLmobile-user?

- you will see wagons on site and if they are loaded, empty etc.
- you will also see wagons that are on the way to you with status etc.
- you will also see on a map where the wagons are if they have a GPS installed.

The information is based from our system Sflow and we are working hard to improve the quality and date in Sflow. As times goes the data in for example my wagons at SFLmobile will be improved, which means this function is not 100% correct but gives you very good information where the wagons are, status on them etc.

Regarding the map feature, it will only show GPS- coordinates for the wagons which have GPS installed.
